IN THEIR OWN WORDS: WHY SMU?

"I chose SMU because I wanted to challenge myself. When I came to the SMU Open House in 2015, I met an SMU Ambassador who told me something along the lines of "SMU isn't easy, but if you want to challenge yourself and push yourself out of your comfort zone, this is the place to be".

What I love about SMU is the freedom to decide how you want to learn and what you want to learn. The interactive style of SMU encourages students to take charge of their learning by steering the direction of the discussion, with the professor facilitating it. Aside from this, SMU provides a very safe environment for students to make mistakes and to learn from these mistakes. The classroom is designed in such a way that learning becomes very collaborative and cohesive."

Chua Min Hui
Bachelor of Business Management and Bachelor of Accountancy

"I chose SMU because I wanted to find a university that would provide global exposure. I remember an SMU student coming to my junior college and sharing about all her trips to various countries as well as her lessons learnt from such experiences. That really caught my attention and I thus wanted to experience the same exciting university life. Looking back, I have had the privilege of going on 4 overseas trips to 5 countries over 3 years and that has greatly enriched my student life."

Elizabeth Ong Xin Yi
Bachelor of Science (Economics)

"I chose SMU because the school offers a unique teaching style. Lessons are seminar-style, and students are encouraged to speak up and voice their opinions in class. We get to learn from our peers and recognise the different perspectives others might have."

Joseph Teng Yu Siang
Bachelor of Accountancy

"SMU's location is really one of the most underrated aspects of the university. Beyond the obvious benefits of having a more active social life and all the time you will save on commuting to and from home over four years, networking opportunities are more common here just because it is so convenient for alumni and working professionals to come down - whether it is for official events, student-organised events, or just for an informal coffee chat."

Ling Kai Tsi
Bachelor of Business Management
